

Isabella D'Emilio statement

I am a Fortismere parent with a child in Year 8, I believe in the ethos and values of the school, its focus on individuals and broad curriculum which allows students to flourish and reach their potential. I am a journalist and PR professional with experience across news, the charity sector, and higher education. I have previously acted as trustee for a Haringey migrants organisation and have a strong interest in social and community issues, and education. I believe I could make a positive contribution as a parent governor and bring a wide range of skills and experience and a different perspective. I would also like to advocate for more diverse representation so the governing body reflects the diversity within our school and local community.
